

Jyoti Vij, Additional Director General, FICCI

Jyoti is a business economist by training and a seasoned industry leader with nearly three decades of work experience with apex Indian industry association. Through the years, she worked across sectors and with a large set of stakeholders around policy and business issues. She currently oversees teams across a range of policy areas. She also supervises the membership outreach of FICCI.

Jyoti regularly interfaces with senior government officials, multilateral organisations, and industry leaders on large number of economic issues and projects. She has been part of government committees on various subjects and has handled numerous projects with multilateral organisations.

She also contributes to the investment promotion activities of the government.